UGLY KID JOE are playing Belfast in November this year - and they have just released their new video. The video is at the bottom of the post, but here's the blurb about the new album.

After a 19-year hiatus, Ugly Kid Joe return with a brand new, full-length album entitled "Uglier Than They Used Ta Be".

The album was recorded at Balance Studios in Covington, Louisiana under the helm of Dave Fortman (Slipknot, Godsmack, Evanescence) and featured a 7-member line up of Ugly Kid Joe
